AMENDMENTS TO THE GENERAL RULES OF THE FAMILY COURT

GENERAL RULES OF THE FAMILY DIVISION COURT

INTRODUCTORY NOTE TO THE SUPERIOR COURT RULES OF THE FAMILY DIVISIONCOURT

The Family Division Court Rules are divided into 68 parts:

General Rules of the Family DivisionCourt, Rules Governing Domestic Relations Proceedings, Rules Governing Adoption Proceedings, Rules Governing Intrafamily Proceedings in the Domestic Violence Unit, Rules Governing Juvenile Proceedings, Rules Governing Neglect Proceedings, Rules Governing Mental Health Proceedings and Rules Governing Mental HabilitationRetardation Proceedings. The General Rules of the Family DivisionCourt apply to all proceedings in the Division Family Court; other Rrules apply as indicated in Rule 1 (scope) of each part.

For ease in identification and description, the various Rrules may be known and cited as follows:

Title	Citation
General Rules of the Family DivisionCourt	SCR-General Family
Rules Governing Domestic Relations Proceedings	SCR-Dom. Rel.
Rules Governing Adoption Proceedings	SCR-Adoption
Rules Governing Intrafamily Proceedings
in the Domestic Violence Unit	SCR- Intrafamily DV
Rules Governing Juvenile Proceedings	SCR-Juvenile
Rules Governing Neglect Proceedings	SCR-Neglect
Rules Governing Mental Health Proceedings	SCR-M ental Health
Rules Governing Mental HabilitationRetardation
Proceedingsdure	SCR-M.Ha.

Insofar as possible the structure and numbering systems of the Family DivisionCourt Rrules are in accord with the Superior Court Rules of Civil Procedure and the Superior Court Rules of Criminal Procedure. Thus, in the Rules Governing Domestic Relations Proceedings, the SCR-Civil scheme of using numbers 1-86 for federally-derived rules (with Roman numerals affixed for Rrules closely related thereto), and numbers beginning with 101 for unique local Rrules, has been followed. In the Rules Governing Juvenile Proceedings, Rules 1-60 are based on the corresponding Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, while Rules 101-113118 are local Rrules unique to the juvenile practice. Each federally-derived rule (SCR-Dom. Rel. 1-86 and SCR-Juvenile 1-60) is substantially similar to the corresponding Frederal Rrule unless the comment indicates otherwise. Where the Frederal Rrule is wholly inapplicable, it is left vacant.

The Comments to the Rrules are those of the Advisory Committee, not the Court. They are not part of the Rrules and are in no way binding on the Court's decisions applying the Rrules.

They are published for whatever instructive value they may provide to members of the Bar and others.

Throughout the Rules and Comments, particular sections of the District of Columbia Code, as amended by the District of Columbia Court Reform and Criminal Procedure Act of 1970, have generally been cited as D.C. Code (1967 Edition, Supplement IV) §, or simply as D.C. Code § In the event Supplement IV is unavailable to the reader, the same sections may be found in the text of the Court Reform Act, Public Law 91-358 (84 Stat. 473).

SCR-FAMILY D

Rule D. Magistrate judges.

ADVISORY NOTE: This rule was substantially rewritten and accordingly, there is no strickenthrough or underlined language.

- (a) Assignment of duties. Magistrate judges appointed by designation by the Chief Judge in consultation with the Presiding Judge of Family Court, pursuant to D.C. Code §§ 11-1732 or 11-1732A, may perform the duties specified in this rule and such other functions incidental to these duties as are consistent with the rules of the Superior Court and the Constitution and the laws of the United States and of the District of Columbia.
- (b) Expedited proceedings for establishment, enforcement or modification of child support orders.
- (1) In any case brought under D.C. Code § 11-1101(a)(1), (3), (10), or (11) involving the establishment of paternity, establishment or enforcement of child support, or in any case seeking to modify an existing child support order, a hearing shall be scheduled within 45 days from the date the application is filed with the clerk's office and that office shall issue notice to the alleged responsible relative which complies with D.C. Code § 46-206(a).
- (2) Cases with Complex Issues. If in a case under subparagraph (b)(1), the magistrate judge finds that a duty of support exists and makes a finding that the case involves complex issues requiring resolution by an associate judge, the magistrate judge shall establish a temporary support obligation and refer unresolved issues to the Presiding Judge of the Family Court, who shall assign the case to an associate judge for resolution of the unresolved issues, except that the magistrate judge shall not establish a temporary support order if parentage is at issue.
- (3) Where a magistrate judge in the Family Court finds that there is an existing duty of support, the magistrate judge shall conduct a hearing on support and within 30 days from the conclusion of the hearing, the magistrate judge shall issue written findings of fact and conclusions of law, and enter either a temporary or final judgment or order as provided by law and in accordance with D.C. Code § 16-916.01, 16-924, and 46-205.
- (4) If a magistrate judge finds that there is a duty of support and the individual owing that duty has been served or given notice of the proceeding under any applicable statute or court rule, and if that individual fails to appear or otherwise respond, the magistrate judge shall enter a default order.
- (5) Any final judgment or order issued by a magistrate judge shall constitute a final judgment or order of the Superior Court. Such order or judgment shall contain notice that a party may within 30 days after entry of a magistrate judge's judgment or order file a motion for review of that judgment or order pursuant to subparagraph (e)(1) of this rule.
- (c) Other family court proceedings. Subject to the other provisions of these rules, a magistrate judge may conduct proceedings in any other contested or uncontested matter in the Family Court, excluding jury trials and felony juvenile trials. In these proceedings, the magistrate judge may make findings and enter final orders or judgments which shall constitute final orders or judgments of the Superior Court.
- (d) Other duties. A magistrate judge may issue a bench warrant or custody order for a respondent who fails to appear in Court or is otherwise in abscondence, and may quash such a bench warrant or custody order.

- (e) Review of magistrate judge's order or judgment.
- (1) Upon motion.
- (A) Final judgment or orders. An appeal of a final order or judgment, in whole or in part, shall be taken by filing and serving on all parties a motion for review. Upon receipt of such motion, the Chief Judge, or his or her designee, shall designate an associate judge to act on the motion.
- (B) Such motion shall be filed and served on all parties not later than 30 days after entry of the order or judgment pursuant to paragraph (b) of this rule and 10 days after the entry of the order or judgment pursuant to paragraph (c) of this rule. The motion for review shall designate the order, judgment, or part thereof, for which review is being sought, shall specify the grounds for the objection to the magistrate judge's order, judgment, or part thereof, and shall include a written summary of any evidence presented before the magistrate judge relating to the grounds for the objection. Within 10 days after being served with said motion, a party may file and serve a response, which shall describe any proceedings before the magistrate judge which conflict with or expand upon the summary filed by the moving party. The associate judge designated by the Chief Judge, or his or her designee, shall review those portions of the magistrate judge's order or judgment to which objection is made together with relevant portions of the record, and may affirm, reverse, modify, or remand, in whole or in part, the magistrate judge's order or judgment and enter an appropriate order of judgment.
- (2) On initiative of Court. Not later than 30 days after entry of a magistrate judge's order or judgment pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d) or (g) of this rule, the associate judge designated by the Chief Judge, or his or her designee, may sua sponte review said order or judgment in whole or in part. After giving the parties due notice and opportunity to make written submissions on the matter, the associate judge may affirm, reverse, modify, or remand, in whole or in part, the magistrate judge's order or judgment.
- (3) Stay of proceedings. A magistrate judge may stay his or her order or judgment pending review by an associate judge either by motion or sua sponte. Upon a showing that the magistrate judge has refused or otherwise failed to stay an order or judgment pending review under this rule, the movant may, with reasonable notice to all parties, apply to the Presiding Judge of the Family Court or, after assignment, to the assigned associate judge for a stay. The stay may be conditioned upon the filing of a bond or other appropriate security.
- (4) Extension of time to file motion for review. Upon a showing of excusable neglect and notice to the parties, the Presiding Judge of the Family Court, or his or her designee, may, before or after the time prescribed by subparagraph (e)(1)(B) has expired, with or without motion, extend the time for filing and serving a motion for review of a magistrate judge's final order or judgment for a period not to exceed 20 days from the expiration of the time otherwise prescribed by subparagraph (e)(1)(B).
- (5) Standard of Review. The standard of review by the associate judge of a magistrate judge's final order or judgment shall be the same as applied by the Court of Appeals on appeal of a judgment or order of an associate judge of the Superior Court. In accordance with this standard a magistrate judge's finding of fact may not be set aside unless clearly erroneous; nor may the magistrate judge's final order or judgment be set aside except for legal error or abuse of discretion.
- (f) Appeal. An appeal to the District of Columbia Court of Appeals may be made only after an associate judge of the Superior Court has reviewed the magistrate judge's order or judgment pursuant to paragraph (e) of this rule.

(g) Contempt. Pursuant to D.C. Code § 11-1732A, a magistrate judge sitting in the Family Court may order an individual to show cause why the individual should not be held in civil or criminal contempt for disobedience or resistance to any lawful order, process, or writ issued by an associate or magistrate judge or for any other act or conduct committed before a magistrate judge which would constitute contempt. An order to show cause why the individual should not be held in contempt shall state the time and place of hearing, allowing a reasonable time for the preparation of the defense, and shall state the essential facts constituting the criminal contempt charged and describe it as such. A finding of civil or criminal contempt by a Family Court magistrate judge may not, pursuant to D.C. Code § 11-1732A(d)(3), result in the detention of an individual for more than 180 days.

COMMENT:

See D.C. Code §§ 11-1732, 11-1732A, 16-924, and 46-201 et seq. (2010 Supp.). The Child Support Guideline is set forth in D.C. Code § 16-916.01 (2010 Supp.), and the Schedule of Basic Child Support Obligations is Appendix I to the statute.

The standard of review of a magistrate judge's decision pursuant to subparagraphs (e)(1) and (2) is the same as applied by the Court of Appeals on appeal of a judgment or order of the Superior Court. In accordance with that standard, a magistrate judge's judgment or order may not be set aside except for errors of law unless it appears that the judgment or order is plainly wrong, without evidence to support it, or an abuse of discretion.

Subsequent to In re A.O.T., 10 A.3d 160 (D.C. 2010), section (c) of the rule was amended, pursuant to D.C. Code § 11-1732A(d)(2) (2010 Supp.), to permit a magistrate judge to conduct proceedings authorized by the rule without consent of the parties.

The term "final order or judgment" as used in this rule embraces the final decision concepts of D.C. Code § 11-721(a) and permits review of a magistrate judge's decision by an associate judge only in those situations in which an appeal from an associate judge to the Court of Appeals would lie.

SCR-FAMILY E

Rule E. Subpoenas.

In intrafamilyproceedings in the Domestic Violence Unit, neglect proceedings and in any other appropriate cases in which the Corporation CounselOffice of the Attorney General is petitioner's representative wherein the respondent can satisfactorily show that he or she is financially unable to pay the fees of a witness and that the presence of the witness is necessary to an adequate defense, the Court shall order that a subpoena be issued. Application may be made ex parte and if the Court orders the subpoena to be issued the costs incurred by the process and the fees of the witness so subpoenaed shall be paid in the same manner in which similar costs and fees are paid in case of a witness subpoenaed in behalf of the Corporation CounselOffice of the Attorney General.

COMMENT:

In both intrafamilyDomestic Violence Unit and neglect proceedings, the Corporation CounselOffice of the Attorney General is the petitioner's representative. Thus, even though there is a basic civil concept, provision should be made for payment of fees and costs in accordance with Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 17(b). As stated the Rrule may be applied as well to other appropriate cases wherein Corporation Counselthe Office of the Attorney General is petitioner's representative.

SCR-FAMILY F

Rule F. Witness fees.

(a) Amounts. (1) Fees. Except as hereinafter provided, each witness attending court or a deposition pursuant to any Rrule or order of the DivisionCourt shall receive $40 or the fee as provided by D.C. Code § 15-714, whichever is higher, for each day's attendance and for the time necessarily occupied in going to and returning from the same. An expert witness shall receive such amount as he or she is entitled to by law.

No witness fee shall be paid to an employee of the United States or any agency thereof or of the District of Columbia who has been called as a witness on behalf of the United States or the District of Columbia in any judicial proceeding in which the United States or the District of Columbia is a party.

- (2) Travel allowance. Except as hereinafter provided, each witness shall receive $0.5125 per mile or the travel allowance provided by D.C. Code $ 15-714,—whichever is higher, for going from and returning to his or her residence. Regardless of the mode of travel employed by the witness, computation of mileage shall be made on the basis of a uniform table of distances adopted by the Attorney General government. No witness residing in the District of Columbia shall be entitled to a travel allowance.
- (3) Subsistence. Except as hereinafter provided, a witness attending Court or a deposition at a place so far removed from his or her residence as to prohibit return thereto from day to day shall be entitled to an additional allowance fixed by statute for expenses of subsistence including the time necessarily occupied in going to and returning from the place of attendance.

An officer or employee of the United States or any agency thereof summoned as a witness on behalf of the United States shall receive a per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence. Such per diem shall be fixed at a rate prescribed by law.

- (b) Payment from public funds. No witness entitled to any payment under paragraph (a) shall be paid from public funds except upon affidavit of the witness that he or she was compelled by subpoena to attend as a witness on behalf of the government or on behalf of a respondent unable to pay in a specified case and that he or she did attend. Such affidavit shall be endorsed by the counsel of record issuing the subpoena and shall be submitted to the Clerk of the DivisionCourt for verification. The Executive Officer upon submission of the endorsed and verified affidavit shall make payment by cash or check.
- (c) No payment of fee or allowance after voluntary appearance. No person voluntarily appearing in Court or at a deposition without having been served with a subpoena shall be paid a fee or allowance after the fact of such appearance.
- (d) One fee rule. No person under subpoena to attend in a number of pending cases shall be permitted to receive more than 1one fee or allowance for attendance on any 1one day.
- (e) Construction. This Rrule shall not be construed to supersede or conflict with any statute of the United States or regulation promulgated thereunder or any statute of the District of Columbia.

COMMENT:

Payment of fees from public funds under section (b) omits the requirement of judicial certification after the witness' court attendance. Under Family DivisionCourt General Rule E, the Court must approve in forma pauperis subpoenas before they are issued. Sections (c), (d), and (e) are based on former General Sessions Criminal Rule 59.

SCR-FAMILY G

Rule G. Continuances.

- (a) Applications -- By whom determined. All applications for continuances shall be determined promptly by the judicial officer assigned to the case.
- (b) Manner of application and obligation of counsel. Applications for continuances of hearings or trials shall be in writing, and copies thereof shall be given to all parties or their counsel. Applications shall be filed promptly with the Clerk of the DivisionFamily Court unless the DivisionCourt otherwise directs. Each application, whether or not contested, shall set forth good cause and contain at least 1one date to which the parties agree the case may be continued if the application is granted. If the moving party is unable to obtain agreement as to the continuance or the continued date from other parties, he or she shall set forth the good faith efforts made to obtain agreement from the other parties and shall submit three proposed dates for the hearing or trial. The determination of a properly entered application for continuance may be made by the judge without counsel present. However, iIt shall be the obligation of any counsel or unrepresented party not present at such determination to determine ascertain from the Clerk of the Division whether the application was granted or denied and the new date and time of the hearing or trial if it-the application was granted.
- (c) The "5 day rule". The Division shall require a statement of reasons in support of an application made less than 5 days before the scheduled hearing date.
- (dc) The "2two day rule". Except in extraordinary or unforeseen circumstances, no further continuance may be granted in any continued case unless requested at least 2two_days prior to the date to which the case was previously continued.

COMMENT:

The Family DivisionCourt, and the Superior Court in general, will operate with as few continuances as possible. The Rule is based on former General Sessions Criminal Rule 44 II and on longstanding policies in the Domestic Relations Branch. Section (a) is designed (1) to prevent judge-shopping for continuances or getting continuances from the Clerk of the Division, and (2) to assure prompt determination of requests for continuance. Section (b) allows applications for continuances to be determined without counsel present, but puts an affirmative duty on non-appearing counsel to find out whether the request was granted and, if so, the new hearing date.

SCR-FAMILY H

Rule H. Notice of hearing and order directing appearance.

A notice of hearing and order directing appearance in domestic relations and intrafamilydomestic violence proceedings shall be signed by the Clerk of the Division or judicial officer and shall have the same force and effect as a civil subpoena.

COMMENT:

The power of a subpoena is provided to retain the sanctions for failure to appear and also to obviate the necessity that eliminate the need for a judgejudicial officer to sign the order. The mechanism of the notice of hearing and order directing appearance is utilized in Domestic Relations proceedings (SCR-Dom. Rel. 4) and intrafamily proceedings (SCR-Intrafamily 4)proceedings in the Domestic Violence Unit (SCR-DV 3).
